Independent researchers have found that malware* on your computer can secretly alter your vote when you cast it through the Internet.

*Malware is malicious software that can manipulate and/or spy on your PC/laptop, such as viruses, Trojans, worms, and similar programs.

In the following, you will test the second voting system. This system addresses the security issue mentioned earlier, that malware on your computer could secretly alter your vote cast over the Internet. Thus, Voting System B can ensure the integrity of the vote.
